

Thank You for Praying - Appointments

Bishop Connie Shelton

Thank you for your prayers over these last months as the Cabinet has been doing that discernment work of appointment-making. Over these next few weeks, appointments will be announced kind of in a rolling pattern. If you're receiving a new pastor, be patient if you haven't heard yet. If you're not receiving a new pastor, pray for all those going through transition.

It's a great time for every church to hit the reset, discern to what is God beckoning for us. I pray that as these new beginnings unfold, that each of you will pay attention that the Holy Spirit is at work among us, and appointments are always about discerning how God is inviting us to join God's mission in the world.

Thank you again for all the prayers you've prayed for the Cabinet as we've made appointment-making. But now continue praying because as new pastors join congregations, it is only by the power and presence of the Holy Spirit that any of us can see to what God is beckoning. That's how we live well together in graceful hospitality.
