Diversity Resources
from the NCCUMC Media Center

Last Updated: July 24, 2013

Purpose: This guide was created for Celebrate Diversity Month that is observed every April. The resources included here cover the positives of diversity and unity, as well as the negatives of racism, sexism, and other forms of prejudice. For resources devoted to learning about a specific cultural group, see the subject guides to resources on and for African Americans, Hispanics, Native Americans, Non-Christian Religions, and Women.

DVD207  Diversity Conference 2007
A series of DVDs that recorded the Diversity Conference from 2007. The videos include the welcome message, evening worship, plenary 1, morning inspiration, plenary 2, worship with Bishop Hope Morgan Ward, closing worship, and Bishop Woodie White.

DVD246  Unity Dialogue: NCCUMC
"For 10 years since it was established by Bishop Marion Edwards, the Unity Dialogue has practiced 'holy conferencing.' Meeting at least twice each year, the 20 appointees have reflected together on Christian faith and homosexuality. The group has no authority to shape policy nor any budget to implement programs. The intent of the Dialogue has been to seek understanding of different points of view in this sensitive issue. Faithful Christians have found common ground in the love of God even as they have remained divided over biblical interpretation and the church’s teaching about homosexuality. The conversations have been sometimes painful and typically productive of a climate of mutual respect and trust through grace." This DVD recorded the Unity Dialogue meeting on April 11, 2008.

DVD264  Truth and Wholeness: Replacing White Privilege with God's Promise
This video is produced by the General Commission on Christian Unity & Interreligious Concerns and the General Commission on Religion and Race in an effort to address "the desire to bear fruit of healing and transformation" brought to attention at the 2008 General Conference. The study is designed to be adapted to diverse situations with the goal of "transforming the way we understand ourselves in relationship to others whose experiences are different from ours. Includes a 29-page leader's guide.

DVD281  Race, Racism and Religion: An Orientation
"This video, produced by the General Commission on Religion and Race (GCORR), explores a broad range of racial concepts by offering concise definitions, candid opinions and compelling testimonies, along with colorful graffiti to illustrate key terms. The 33-minute, three-part video offers basic definitions and individuals' perspectives on 21 key terms and concepts used in GCORR's anti-racism work within the denomination. It is intended as a useful resource for information and discussions on race and its intersection with religion." Includes leader's guide. Participants can receive a certificate of completion. Certificate, study guide, and a preview are available at http://www.gcorg.org/site/apps/nlnet/content3.aspx?c=mW9NTJtF&b=4416727&ct=5908479. A shorter version, DVD282 Journey to Inclusiveness, is also available.

DVD282  Journey to Inclusiveness
From the Commission on Religion and Race, a short overview of the obstacles to understanding and true inclusiveness. A longer version, DVD281 Race, Racism and Religion, is also available.

DVD412  The Visitor
"Hailed as 'one of the year's most intriguing dramas' in a 'perfect performance' as Walter, a disaffected college professor who has been drifting aimlessly through his life. When, in a chance encounter on a trip to New York, Walter discovers a couple has taken up residence in his apartment in the city, he develops an unexpected and profound connection to them that will change his life forever. As challenges arise for his tenants Tarek and Zainab, Walter finds himself compelled to help his new friends, and rediscovers a passion he thought he had lost long ago." This award-winning film can be used to generate discussion on immigration, human rights, the power of music, multiculturalism, and what it means to love your neighbor. DVD extras include an inside look at the film, commentary, deleted scenes, trailer, and a lesson on playing the djembe. View a preview at http://www.thevisitorfilm.com.

DVD447  When Christians Get it Wrong
When young adults talk about the problems they have with Christianity and the church, they often name certain attitudes and behaviors they believe are practiced too often by Christians: judging others, condemning people of other faiths, rejecting science, injecting politics into faith, and being anti-homosexual. With his familiar style, Adam Hamilton tackles these issues and addresses the how's and why's of Christians getting it right when it comes to being Christ in the world.

DVD449  Start> Becoming a Good Samaritan
Start Becoming a Good Samaritan is the first widely distributed Christian curriculum explaining Christian social responsibility and justice, a topic that has been building a great deal of buzz within the ranks of Church leadership, but has not yet ignited - as an action-based movement - the people who matter the most.... the millions of potential Good Samaritans sitting in the pews. These six dynamic sessions cover issues like poverty, AIDS, racism, genocide, child slavery, the disenfranchised (widow, orphans, the disabled), caring for the environment, and the dynamic impact a single Samaritan can make. Hosting each of the six sessions will be John Ortberg.

DVD633  Extraordinary Women: With One Heart: Unity in the Church and With Each Other
After having overcome the ravages of discrimination, Thelma Wells takes a look at how to love one another, from a woman who lives it. Having spoken to millions while touring with Women of Faith, she challenges Christian women to face this issue. With deep authenticity, she calls them to stop working against each other, stop looking down on each other; choosing rather to develop genuine love. She calls women to aim for unity by living with compassion, mutual respect, and fairness; supporting each other in ways that bring unity in the church and glory to God.

DVD667  Embracing Interfaith Cooperation
Join interfaith commentator Eboo Patel as he explores what it means to be "literate" about other faiths, how interfaith cooperation "works" and why, the skills needed for interfaith cooperation and the significant role that our institutions, including colleges and faith communities, can play in this process. This DVD features five 10-15 minute presentations by Eboo Patel, each of which is followed by video of Patel interacting with a small, diverse group of adults and young adults as they respond and discuss interfaith issues.

DVD684  Unnatural Causes...Is Inequality Making Us Sick?
UNNATURAL CAUSES sounds the alarm about the extent of our glaring socio-economic and racial inequities in health and searches for their root causes. But those causes are not what we might expect. While we pour more and more money into drugs, dietary supplements and new medical technologies, UNNATURAL CAUSES crisscrosses the country investigating the findings that are shaking up conventional understanding of what really makes us healthy or sick. It turns out there's much more to our health than bad habits, healthcare or unlucky genes. The social conditions in which we are born, live and work profoundly affect our well-being and longevity. The four-hour series, broadcast by PBS, was conceived as part of an ambitious communications and public engagement campaign conducted with leading public health, policy and community-based organizations. For Discussion Guides, Action Toolkits, Backgrounders, Handouts and more visit: www.unnaturalcauses.org.

DVD703  Love is an Orientation
Much of today's culture defines bridge-building and reconciliation as a one-way street that leads to full theological, political and social agreement. Yet Christ demonstrated a different path of religious and cultural engagement to establish his kingdom here on earth. In light of such countercultural principles, the Christian community needs a new view on the issues that divide conservative believers and the lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) communities. Using the practical applications Andrew Marin has learned over the last decade of living and working in the LGBT neighborhood of Chicago called Boystown, as well as his international speaking and consulting ministry, this six-session, video-based study offers a variety of practical teachings, insights and life lessons. Rather than avoiding the topic of homosexuality, Love Is an Orientation aims to equip the Christian community to bridge the gap between LGBT and religious communities. This is not a group study about 'fixing' gay people. It's about getting to know them, engaging them, and loving them like Jesus does. After this study, you, your small group and your church will know what it means to peacefully and productively build bridges with the LGBT community.

KIT107 Can We Talk?: Christian Conversations About Homosexuality
2 DVDs containing hours of presentations and personal stories and a CD filled with a wealth of materials designed to get church members talking. A production from the General Commission on Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns. Part One: Personal Stories, Perspectives, General Church Dialogues, Part Two: How to Talk, Presentations and Worship Service Resources.

Resources that begin with VC are on VHS tape and require a VCR.

VC5 A Class Divided: Frontline
"In the 1970's, a public school teacher divided her all white third graders into blue and brown eyed groups for a lesson in discrimination. This Frontline reunites the teacher and class after 15 years to relate the enduring effects of their lesson." Comes with leader's guide. The book "A Class Divided, Then and Now" is also available as BK2. The entire program can be viewed online, along with teacher's guide and additional readings, at http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/pages/frontline/shows/divided.

VC110 Beyond the News: Racism
"A beginning step toward respecting our differences is to recognize our prejudices and privileges." The six segments of this video are: Prejudice and Privilege, Children and Education, Jobs and Economics, Justice, The Church, and Keep on Walking. A leader's guide is included, outlining example questions for group discussion.

VC114 Bill Cosby on Prejudice
Bill Cosby uses all the clichés and stereotypes about particular groups of people. When he is done, it is obvious that the super bigot that he is portraying hates everyone. Cosby uses satire and humor to examine this serious topic. Harsh words are included. Also available on youtube: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fgUNixkTV8c.

VC153 Charter for Racial Justice

VC266 Diversity Is
Offers a collection of insights on diversity in our society from a range of perceptions along with biblical references and quotes from different traditions. Leader's guidelines included.

VC557 In Search of Racial Justice
This video is a discussion of the background, history and present work in the United Methodist Church in the area of Racial Justice. Five United Methodist women tell their stories about racism from their own experience. A leader's guide is available with background information, suggested questions and a script from the video.

VC567 It's In Every One of Us
A blend of heartwarming images and music, this devotional type video shows us faces of the human family. For use as a discussion starter, a time for reflection, and especially appropriate as part of a dialog on multiculturalism and unity in the community of faith.

VC646 Listening to One Another
"Seven North American churches give us seven different views of what it means to be a church that takes seriously its call to be faithful to the Gospel in an increasingly diverse society." Includes "First We Must Listen" study book and leader's guide.

VC1085 True Colors
What would happen if two men, equal in all measurable aspects except skin color, were to test the levels of prejudice in a variety of everyday situations? Host Diane Sawyer of Prime Time discovers that even today prejudice takes many forms.

VC1182 World Song
"World Song is a joyful kaleidoscope of images that celebrates the common humanity which unifies all the cultures of the world." Families of the world are shown experiencing the birth of children, their growth and branching out, first love, marriage, aging and death.

VC1326 When It Is Hard to Choose
True to life stories are told with commentary by well-known presenters, Tony Campolo, Joan Chittister, Monty Roberts, and Renita Weems. Discussion guides included. Each part is on a separate video tape. Series includes: Compassion, Respect for Differences, Responsibility, Truth-Telling, Non-Violence, Compassion.

VC1661 Reconciliation AC: Native American, Black American
During the Annual Conference Repentance and Reconciliation Service, two special reports were produced. The Native American footage written and narrated by Jerry Lowry is 12 minutes long. "We Have Come This Far By Faith," reflecting on the rich life and contribution of the Black Church, is directed by Doris Brunson. It is 10 minutes.

mission in the context of contemporary, multicultural society. Each chapter ends with reflective discussion questions. Includes chapters on the greatest gift that the Wesleyan movement has given to the Christian world and 5 elements that should be present in a Wesleyan worship service.

BK480 Steps Toward Wholeness: Learning and Repentance

BK565 Becoming the People of God: Walking Humbly, Doing Justice

BK660 For Everyone Born: Global Songs for an Emerging Church
"Bring the world into your worship service! For Everyone Born: Global Songs for an Emerging Church serves as a musical bridge in local churches that have (or are planning to have) contemporary or blended worship services. Designed specifically for congregational singing, this collection of twenty-two songs includes sung responses, songs and new musical settings for Communion that call the church to a never ending renewal. Edited by Jorge Lockward and Chris Heckert."

BK667 Blood Done Sign My Name: A True Story
On May 11, 1970, Henry Marrow, a 23-year-old black veteran, walked into a crossroads store owned by Robert Teel, a rough man with a criminal record and ties to the Ku Klux Klan, and came out running. Teel and two of his sons chased Marrow, beat him unmercifully, and killed him in public as he pleaded for his life. With large sections of the town in flames, Tyson's father, the pastor of Oxford's all-white Methodist church, pressed his congregation to widen their vision of humanity and pushed the town to come to terms with its bloody racial history. Tim Tyson's riveting narrative of that fiery summer and one family's struggle to build bridges in a time of destruction brings gritty blues truth, soaring gospel vision, and down-home humor to our complex history, where violence and faith, courage and evil, despair and hope all mingle to illuminate America's enduring chasm of race.

This book is written in Korean.

BK965 Adam's Gift: A Memoir of a Pastor's Calling to Defy the Church's Persecution of Lesbians and Gays
Jimmy Creech, a United Methodist pastor in North Carolina, was visited one morning in 1984 by Adam, a longtime parishioner whom he liked and respected. Adam said that he was gay, and that he was leaving The United Methodist Church, which had just pronounced that "self-avowed practicing homosexuals" could not be ordained. He would not be part of a community that excluded him. Creech found himself instinctively supporting Adam, telling him that he was sure that God loved and accepted him as he was. "Adam's Gift" is Creech's inspiring first-person account of how that conversation transformed his life and ministry. Adam's visit prompted Creech to re-evaluate his belief that homosexuality was a sin, and to research the scriptural basis for the church's position. He determined that the church was mistaken, that scriptural translations and interpretations had been botched and dangerously distorted. As a Christian, Creech came to believe that discriminating against lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender people was morally wrong. This understanding compelled him to perform same-gender commitment ceremonies, which conflicted with church directives. Creech was tried twice by The United Methodist Church, and, after the second trial, his ordination credentials were revoked. "Adam's Gift" is a moving story and an important chapter in the unfinished struggle for lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender civil and human rights.

BK1134 A World Parish?: Hopes and Challenges of The United Methodist Church in a Global Setting
This book introduces United Methodist leaders in Annual Conferences and local congregations to what it means to be a United Methodist in connection with other Methodists and Christians across the world. In recent years the denomination has moved gradually to create a church structure that is more attentive to the increasing number of United Methodists living outside the United States. Two recent General Conferences have taken only minor steps to respond to calls to be more "global." Yet, even those changes have profound effects not yet visible across the denomination.

American Imam Feisal Abdul Rauf's mosque was only twelve blocks from the World Trade Center when it was attacked on September 11. In the aftermath, finding a common ground between his country and his religion became a personal quest. He began by looking back to a time before such divisions, back to our common ancestor, Abraham. Jews, Christians, and Muslims all claim Abraham as their patriarch, and the ethic this forebear imparted is an ethic still shared by all three traditions. Imam Rauf skillfully traces the evolution of these foundational beliefs through the golden age of Islam in medieval Cordoba and Baghdad, as well as the development of democratic and capitalist principles in the West. In stark contrast to thinkers such as Samuel P. Huntington and Bernard Lewis, who suggest the crisis is in Islam itself, Imam Rauf argues that what went wrong is the relationship between the Muslim world and the West. He offers a basis for rebuilding that relationship by arguing that Islamic principles actually support the fundamental values of a pluralistic, free society, uncovering the promise of a Muslim form of democratic capitalism within the Qur'an, the stories and traditions of the Prophet Muhammad, and Islamic Law. Focused on finding solutions, not on determining fault, this is ultimately a hopeful and inspiring book. Wide-ranging in scope, What's Right with Islam elaborates in satisfying detail a vision for a Muslim world that can eventually embrace its own distinctive forms of democracy and capitalism, aspiring to a New Cordoba -- a time when Jews, Christians, Muslims, and all other faith traditions will live together in peace and prosperity.

BK220 God Makes Us Different
"Despite differences in personality and physical traits, all people are the same in many important ways," especially in sharing God's love. This delightfully illustrated little book is for use with young children.

BK358 All The Colors of the Earth
"Children come in all the colors of the earth, in every shade of you and me. With soaring text and majestic art, Sheila Hamanaka celebrates the dazzling diversity of children."

BK717 Hugging the World: Faith, Hope, Love in Action
Children's Mission Study & Teacher's Guide (grades K-6) takes children on a hot air balloon journey around the globe to explore God's mission in various countries and cultures. The study gives teachers links to Biblical lessons, with hands-on activities. Hugging the World will give teachers a variety of ideas for portraying the hot air balloon stories, linking them to Biblical lessons, and engaging children through hands-on activities. Intended for children in grades K-6, this resource teaches children -- in a fun and interactive way -- about our world, its diversity, and God's mission within it. Five sessions. Session five includes an optional intergenerational session.

BK763  For Every Child: The UN Convention on the Rights of the Child in Words and Pictures
By Caroline Castle. In November 1989, the United Nations formally adopted 54 principles that make up the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child -- from the right to a name and a nationality to the right to education and play and special protection for disabled children. And now in this extraordinary book, 14 of the most pertinent rights have been carefully chosen and retold in simple, evocative text that can be understood by every child. Each right has been interpreted in a stunning double-page spread by some of the world's most acclaimed artists, including two American award-winners, Jerry Pinkney and Rachel Isadora. Includes a foreword by Archbishop Desmond Tutu.

BK1241  Hand in Hand: Helping Children Embrace Diversity
Help children in grades K-6 learn to appreciate and celebrate the diversity in God's family with this flexible five-session course. Sessions address issues of differences, prejudice, inclusion, unity, and how to celebrate diversity. Hand in Hand's large group/small group format works in many settings: Sunday school, mid-week programs, summer sessions, or boys' and girls' clubs. Includes audio CD of songs and stories.
